A black and white line drawing of a small plant, likely a seedling or young plant, showing a central stem with several long, narrow, lanceolate leaves arranged in a whorl pattern.

A horizontal scroll illustration depicting a man and a woman in traditional courtly attire. The man is on the left, wearing a white robe with a blue patterned sash, and the woman is on the right, wearing a white robe with a red patterned sash. They are positioned as if in mid-motion, possibly dancing or performing a ritual. The background consists of stylized, swirling clouds and numerous small, diamond-shaped patterns that resemble falling petals or leaves. The entire scene is enclosed within a decorative border.
